DEDICATION

TO IRVING BACHELLER,

because of his indelible literary associa= tions with the north country and his ever=loyal personal connections with

St. Lawrence University, we dedicate

this Annual, the GRIDIRON of 1933.

Erving Bacheller

FOREWORD

The north country has been chosen as the theme of the Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Three GRIDIRON more as a decorative background than as an idea in itself. In order to add emphasis to our picturization of the country in which our school is situated, we have divided the book into the four seasons. We have thereby attempted to follow a time sequence both in our depiction of nature as it unfolds itself during the various seasons and in our chronicle of the activities of St. Lawrence as they occurred throughout the year. This plan has necessitated a radical departure from the stereotyped and traditional organization of year books of the past. We have thus endeavored in the Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Three GRIDIRON to combine an unusual treatment with a beautiful portrayal of the surrounding country that has made

St. Lawrence recognized as the college of the north.

The Campus of St. Lawrence University is one of the most beautiful spots in all the north country. From the college hill, one beholds a great green valley stretching away to the blurred blue hills in the distance; while the simple beauty of the buildings and grounds of the campus itself impresses an ineffaceable picture upon the memory of every Laurentian.

Memories of a mediocre record for the 1932 St. Lawrence Varsity Football Team are offset by recalling two splendid performances against the strongest teams in the Little Ten Conference. In defeating Niagara, Coach Sullivan's men rose to unexpected heights. With a background of fine coaching, they outplayed and outsmarted the favored Niagara team to win by a score of 6-0. The 7-0 defeat by Clarkson seemed like a moral victory for St. Lawrence as the Larries lost in the fourth quarter of a hard fought battle. A comparison of the season's records showed that St. Lawrence was decidedly the lesser of the two teams, but in front of a huge crowd the Scarlet team demonstrated that grit and fight can more than offset superior weight and playing ability. Keyed to a fighting pitch and backed by a more enthusiastic student and alumni body than has followed a Larry team in many years, the team played in such a way as to make the final score of little importance to their followers. The crowd watched a team which deserved credit and admiration for a fighting spirit that abated not once during the season.

In the other games St. Lawrence played fine football but at times seemed to lack the necessary scoring punch. In no game was this more evident than in the Hamilton game which resulted in a 0-0 tie. Four times

BECKER

St. Lawrence worked the ball into a scoring position inside the ten-yard stripe only to lose it on downs. In victories over Niagara and Arnold, the team showed the same spirit that was so noticeable when they held the great Colgate eleven to six touchdowns. Syracuse, who will be replaced next year by Cornell on the Larry schedule, smashed their way to a 51-0 victory over a much lighter Scarlet team.

Colgate 41—St. Lawrence 0

St. Lawrence opened the season with Colgate at Hamilton. Against Andy Kerr's heralded eleven, which was rated by critics as one of the best football machines of the 1932 season, the Scarlet offense was helpless. However, the ability of the Larries in holding the Maroon to two touchdowns in the first half showed the strong defensive possibilities of the Sullivan-coached eleven. In the second half, Colgate uncorked some puzzling lateral passes which helped in adding four more touchdowns to the Maroon score.

RIFFANACHT

Syracuse 54—St. Lawrence 0

The next week St. Lawrence faced its second major grid opponent in Syracuse University. The heavy Orange team, eager to look impressive after a dreary opening match with Clarkson the previous week, lost no time in rolling up a big score. The team that crushed the Larries was a far cry from the one that barely nosed out Clarkson in their opening game. Yet the comparative scores were fairly significant in revealing the respective abilities of the two North Country rivals.

DE GIRONIMO

FLANIGAN

St. Lawrence 6—Arnold 0

The first home appearance of the Scarlet team confirmed the reports current after the Syracuse game. St. Lawrence lacked scoring power and drive but was strong defensively. A touchdown was scored in the first period and from then on the sluggish battle was fought on even terms. Becker gained ground at will but was unable to put the ball across again and so the Larries had to be content with repulsing Arnold's attempts to score.

FURLONG

St. Lawrence 13—Niagara 6

The first conference game of the year found St. Lawrence returning home with a 13-6 victory stored away. The win, which was rather inconsiderate of the

BROWN

Larries, since the game was part of the dedication ceremonies of the new Niagara stadium, came as a surprise and greatly raised St. Lawrence's hopes for another conference title. Although Niagara outplayed St. Lawrence in the matter of first downs, the alert Larry team took advantage of two breaks to score. Niagara's desperate efforts to tie the score were repulsed by an equally determined Larry defense in the last quarter, and the final score was St. Lawrence 13—Niagara 6.

Providence 14—St. Lawrence 0

Behind a good record and designated as one of the best small college teams of the East, Providence defeated the Scarlet eleven in a hard-fought battle. Several times the Larries threatened to score but lacked the necessary punch to put the ball across.

Showing a strong offense and, when pressed, a stubborn defense, Providence was able to hold the Larry team scoreless while it scored twice.

HORNIG

St. Lawrence 0—Hamilton 0

Outplaying Hamilton at every stage of the game, St. Lawrence looked at least three touchdowns superior to the boys from Clinton. However, these touchdowns were not forthcoming as Hamilton held for downs four times with the ball but inches from their goal.

After bringing the ball down the field seemingly at will, something failed to click at the right time and the jubilant Hamilton team walked off the field with a scoreless tie "to its credit."

HEMMINGS

Clarkson 6—St. Lawrence 0

Fully redeeming themselves for past mediocre performances, the St. Lawrence team played inspired football at Snell Field in the annual classic. Clarkson was superior on paper and by record, but St. Lawrence was imbued with a spirit which more than offset these handicaps for three periods.

In the third period St. Lawrence came close to scoring, but a penalty lost the chance and Clarkson started the drive which ended in Seidlecki's touchdown through the left side of the line. For the first time in seven years the Clarkson-St. Lawrence game ended with St. Lawrence on the losing side.

The 1933 Frosh Football Team played a fair season by winning as many games as they lost and scoring 26 points to their opponents' 19 points. A 19-0 victory for St. Lawrence was won by a steady attack against the Morrisville Aggies in the first game of the season. In the following game, however, the Oswego Normal Team scored early and managed to hold the lead. At Burlington, the St. Lawrence frosh defeated the Vermont eleven, 7-0. They did well to hold the powerful Clarkson freshmen to two touchdowns in the final contest of the season, as Clarkson revealed some particularly formidable material that promises a challenge to future Larry teams.

Class of 1936

If one had the property of being invisible, so as to mingle with the crowds unseen, what would he see when he looked at the freshmen this fall? He would see in September, while the leaves are still green, freshmen entering the dorms and unpacking trunks in silence, freshmen being over nice to strangers, freshmen boasting to one another about their worldliness, freshmen writing letters in their rooms, and freshmen in a dismal fog of nostalgia. As the leaves begin to turn, he will see more confusion, hear more noise, and notice the absence of forced smiles and shy, long faces. By the time the leaves have turned red and yellow, he will see a flock of startled and dismayed faces, the frosh having read their first down list. Their future brothers and sisters in the various houses emphasize their delinquency in ways more or less painful to the poor frosh. When the leaves have fallen from the trees, the freshmen prove to be a novelty to us no longer and they likewise discover that upperclassmen are just human beings like themselves. Then the infant class settles down to a routine of study, activities, and amusements like the rest, so that it is really no longer freshmen in anything except name.

W I N T E R

Sunlight fell on the hills Twig, branch, and trunk glowed with the fire of diamonds through a lacy flecking of hoar frost. Every tree had put on a jacket of ice and became as a fountain of prismatic hues. Here and there a dead pine rose like a spire of crystal; domes of deep-coloured glass and towers of jasper were as the landmarks of a city.—Darrell of the Blessed Isles

The Thelomathesian Society has grown from its original purpose as a debating club to its present status as the student self-governing body. For twenty years it included not only the students but also the townspeople who gathered to discuss pertinent questions. The society now meets weekly in Gunnison Memorial Chapel and governs all student activities.

Joseph J. Romoda, as president of the society, represented St. Lawrence at the annual convention of the National Student Federation of America held at Tulane University.

The Campus Council acts as the executive committee of Thelomathesian. As a result of inefficient organization during the past year, the council has been completely remodeled both in personnel and in function. The organization now consists of the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer of Thelomathesian, the student member of the Board of Athletic Control, the president of W. S. G. A., editors-in-chief of the Hill News and of the Laurentian, the head cheerleader, and representatives from each fraternity and sorority, and the non-fraternity and non-sorority groups. Much new power has been given to the council so that the organization may become a more important and influential factor in student self-government.

Phi Beta Kappa is the highest honorary fraternity on the St. Lawrence campus. Since New York Lambda Chapter was established here in 1898, it has grown steadily in importance and prestige. To be elected to this society is a mark of exceptionally high scholastic distinction. A limited number is chosen each year from the senior class on the basis of the scholastic record of the past four years for membership into this organization.

The St. Lawrence Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity, is an honorary society whose members are selected from competitors in intercollegiate debates. Eligibility for membership is obtained by participation in two such debates. Tau Kappa Alpha has done much to stimulate an interest in debate and to organize and encourage various tournaments on the campus. For the past few years it has sponsored interfraternity contests, awarding a silver cup to the winners.

Mr. J. Lee Harlan, Jr., who was coach of the men's and women's debate teams during the past year, was elected to honorary membership.

Composed of men outstanding in scholarship and activities, Kixioc is a senior honorary society for recognition of exceptional merit and leadership. Students from the junior class are tapped for membership in an impressive ceremony on each Moving-Up Day as the members of the society file slowly through the lines of classes. Since its founding it has gained prestige and tradition that make it one of the greatest attainments toward which a student may strive. The present organization has raised the scholarship standard necessary for admission and has taken an active part in helping to solve campus problems.

Although Kalon was formed in 1924, it was not definitely organized until 1927. The members, chosen each year on Moving-Up Day from the incoming senior class, are those students who are outstanding in scholarship and extra-curricular activities. To be tapped for Kalon is regarded as one of the highest honors that can be conferred upon a woman student at St. Lawrence. It is an acknowledgment of exceptional ability and leadership in campus affairs.

The Iota Chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma was founded at St. Lawrence in 1928 and since then has grown steadily and rapidly to assume a place of prime importance among the national honorary fraternities on the Hill. Membership in Sigma Pi Sigma is based upon honor work in at least two years of physics.

The St. Lawrence Chapter is honored in having Professor May of the faculty on the executive council of the national body. In April, Professor May attended a meeting of the executive council and the American Physical Society in Washington, D. C.

Pi Delta Epsilon is an honorary fraternity providing incentive and recognition for journalistic endeavor. To be eligible for membership a student must have held a major position on the staff of one or more campus publications during his college career. Essay contests, lectures and annual conventions are sponsored by the society, and an effort is made to elevate campus journalism.

During the past year the organization issued football programs at the games and published a "Freshman Handbook" containing college information for the incoming students. The "Epsilog" is the official quarterly publication of the fraternity.

Although the GRIDIRON is the oldest publication on the St. Lawrence campus, it appeared only sporadically previous to 1925. Since that time, it has been issued annually in its present form. In 1928 it became the task of the junior class to edit this review of campus life of the year.

The Laurentian serves not only as the official bulletin for the alumni, but is also a periodical of literary merit and interest to the undergraduate student at St. Lawrence. It has had the advantage of having Dr. Charles Kelsey Gaines, '76, as the faculty advisor, and his interest has been largely responsible for the success of the publication.

During the past year the entire magazine was revised. The size of the page was enlarged, and a new type of cover was added to increase the attractiveness of the book. Besides numerous views of campus life, university news and editorials, many interesting articles are contributed by the St. Lawrence faculty and alumni.

Serving as a medium for the expression of student opinion, as well as reviewing the news of the preceding week, the Hill News holds an important position among the student publications. It offers excellent practical training on both its editorial and business staffs, and many who are interested take advantage of this opportunity. Since its first issue in 1911 it has grown in size as well as in influence with an increasing circulation among alumni, students, and friends of St. Lawrence.

The St. Lawrence literary magazine under a new title, Author and Artist, made its first appearance this year in March. It met with favorable comment and promises to have a successful career on the Hill. Providing a medium for the expression of creative feeling both in literature and art, as the name suggests, the publication offers opportunity to students who have talent in these fields. Through an appropriation from Thelomathesian the staff was able to overcome a great deal of its financial difficulties and was unhampered by the necessity of raising funds.

Despite a rather erratic existence, the Scarlet Saint has won favorable comment as a humorous magazine. Due to financial difficulties it has not been published quarterly as was planned. The quality of its material warrants better support and a more successful career for the Saint in the future. The numbers issued this year show that the magazine is on the road toward establishing for itself a more stable position among the active publications on the Hill.

The St. Lawrence University News Bureau is an association of students, men and women, formed for the double purpose of acquiring skill in news writing, and of obtaining for the college legitimate publicity in the daily and weekly newspapers.

The News Bureau meets weekly, and the reporters are given their assignments which cover all news pertaining to the university. The stories are sent to newspapers all over the country wherever Laurentian news will find interested readers. Richard C. Ellsworth, secretary of the University, acts as advisor and conducts a series of talks during the year on newspaper writing and on the history of the college. The News Bureau held a banquet in the Men's Dormitory for the trustees at which Mr. Paul Williams, editor of the Utica Daily Press was the speaker. The members of the Bureau also visited the offices of the Watertown Times and served as reporters in Watertown for a day.

The Women's Student Government Association, the self-governing body of St. Lawrence University women, was founded in 1921. The active body of this organization is the executive council, which is composed of the officers, and one representative from each sorority, the Campus Club, and Dean-Eaton Hall. The council has accomplished splendid work this year. The council enforces all co-ed social rules while the Varsity Council enforces the rules for freshman women.

This year, the council has revised the point system so as to put a necessary limit on all activities. The training of the freshman class under the supervision of the junior class is another important accomplishment of the council.

The Mummers Society, organized in 1917, as a successor to the Dramatic Society of St. Lawrence University, is the student dramatic organization of the campus. Its aim is the promotion of dramatics and interest in theater arts among the students. The regular annual production was composed of the presentation of "The Clod," by Lewis Beach and "The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife," by Anatole France.

The Men's Debate Team has had an exceptionally full schedule this year. A trip to four New England colleges last fall and a series of five radio debates over WCAD has kept the squad unusually busy.

Among the subjects debated were the questions of War Debts, the recognition of Russia, the St. Lawrence Waterway Project, and Dictatorship vs. Democracy. The greater variety in the subjects discussed and the greater number of debates engaged in this year have been facilitated by an appreciable increase in the size of the squad.

Intercollegiate debating for women began with the founding of the Agora Society in 1925. Through the combined efforts of Professors Rebert and Gaines, the society grew rapidly. During its first year the women's team debated Syracuse and Cornell.

The organization of a regular Women's Varsity Debate Squad, similar to that of the men's squad, was instituted in 1926 by Professor E. R. Page. The squad since that time has grown increasingly popular and active until in the spring of 1933 it was composed of twenty-three women. In the six debates scheduled were included several radio broadcasts and a trip to New England.

An important feature at every varsity contest and parade is the University Band, under the direction of Arthur A. Stevens. It has grown immeasurably during the past year and has become one of the most active organizations on the Hill. Among the various engagements throughout the year were the annual concert at Commencement and a particularly successful one at the American Theater. By a popular vote the Thelomathesian Society appropriated money for new uniforms which have added a neat and impressive appearance to the organization.

Der Deutsche Verein, a society open to students who show exceptional ability in German, is one of the most active organizations on the Hill. It has been fortunate to have as its president one who studied at the University of Munich last year on a junior year scholarship awarded by the Institute of International Education. During the past year, Der Deutsche Verein held a special meeting at which was heard the music of Richard Wagner in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the noted composer's death. At another meeting, a moving picture on the life of Goethe was shown. Der Deutsche Verein also brought the well-known German actor, Max Montor, to the St. Lawrence campus.

Theta Iota Chapter of Beta Pi Theta was founded at St. Lawrence University in May, 1925. It grew out of the well-organized local society known as "Le Cercle Jusserand." Miss Sarah Plaisance, at that time Dean of Women, and now the head of the Modern Language Department, was influential in bringing the national society to this college. Beta Pi Theta is an honorary society which admits only those who attain exceptional scholarship in French.

Although it is among the younger organizations on the Hill, the Student Union has done some notable service for the students of St. Lawrence and performed social work in nearby communities. It has instituted a regular student chapel service on the campus, sent delegates to various conventions in the state, and brought many noted speakers to the University. During the past year it conducted a series of faculty-student smokers to promote a feeling of goodwill and understanding between the faculty and the student body. The Student Union has been able to carry on a more extensive and elaborate program by means of an appropriation from Thelomathesian.

Basketball

St. Lawrence was represented during the 1932-33 basketball season by one of the fastest and highest scoring teams in its history. Through a hard and long schedule it averaged 37 points a game, totaling 629, while it held its opponents to 473 points. Two defeats by Clarkson somewhat marred the schedule, as St. Lawrence tried in vain to avenge the current losses to its ancient rival in other branches of sport.

Buffalo, Niagara, and John Marshall were the only other teams to win over the Scarlet quintet. Notable among the victories was the 46-42 win over McGill in an overtime period. Other Larry victims were Queen's, Vermont, R. P. I., Buffalo, Union, St. Michael's, Rochester Mechanics and Alfred. Flanigan, LeBach, and Gilligan led in scoring, each having a season's total of over 100 points.

St. Lawrence 33 — Queen's 20

Though failing to show their usual speed and smoothness, the Larries outplayed the Canadians to win 33-20. This game marked the appearance of LeBach, sophomore star, as a regular. Playing the center position, he led the scoring with Captain Gilligan, each making 11 points.

John Marshall 28 — St. Lawrence 27

In the first of the three holiday games, John Marshall barely beat St. Lawrence, 28-27. Because of an advantage in height, they were able to hold the Larries to five field baskets. Flanigan, by virtue of his ability from the foul line was high scorer with 10 points.

St. Lawrence 38 — Vermont 15

Initiating a long winning streak at Burlington, the Scarlet quintet easily beat Vermont by a score of 38-15. Coach Burkman's men showed that they were well drilled and completely outclassed their opponents. LeBach, with 13 points, was high individual scorer.

FLANIGAN

St. Lawrence 38 — R. P. I. 27

In its last game before Christmas, St. Lawrence won from the engineers at Troy, 38-27. After gaining a substantial lead in the first half, the Larries slowed up, and their opponents came close to tying the score. Late in the game the Scarlet again opened up and ended the game with an 11-point margin of victory.

St. Lawrence 44 — Buffalo 23

Fresh from a victory over Clarkson, Buffalo came to St. Lawrence favored to win. However, Flanigan, Christie, and LeBach scored fast, and the Scarlet soon accumulated a safe margin. The half ended 22-12. In the second half, St. Lawrence, passing, shooting, and checking accurately, increased the score to 44-23 before the final whistle.

St. Lawrence 45 — Hobart 17

Coach Burkman was able to use his entire squad in an easy victory over Hobart. The starting line-up found little difficulty in scoring, while the second team more than held its own against the team from Geneva.

BENJAMIN

St. Lawrence 46 — Union 16

With the biggest margin of victory of the season St. Lawrence easily defeated Union, 46-16. Union started fast but wilted under the strong attack of the Larries, and the victory marked the sixth win out of seven starts for St. Lawrence.

Clarkson 30 — St. Lawrence 24

Fighting hard to gain the first win of the year over Clarkson, St. Lawrence was again forced to submit to defeat in the last few minutes of a fast contest. Three field baskets in the last minute clinched the victory for Clarkson. The work of Clarkson's forward, Hutteman, in holding Christie scoreless, was one of the features of the game.

St. Lawrence 43 — St. Michael's 25

With little difficulty St. Lawrence subdued St. Michael's, 43-25. At the start, the game was slow and monotonous, but in the last quarter the Larries speeded up and won by a large score.

St. Lawrence 46 — McGill 42

One of the most remarkable comebacks ever seen on the local court was staged when St. Lawrence overcame a 27-14 lead at the half to tie the score at the end of the regular playing time. Playing hard and fast the Scarlet five overcame the lead, and a long field basket by Flanigan in the last few seconds tied the score. In the second overtime period St. Lawrence scored 6 points to win, 46-42.

St. Lawrence 35 — Rochester Mechanics 23

In the first game of the western trip Rochester Mechanics was defeated, 35-23. The game was slow from the start and inaccurate shooting on the part of St. Lawrence kept the score low.

Niagara 32 — St. Lawrence 24

Niagara assured itself of the Conference title when it defeated the Larries in its seventeenth consecutive victory on the Niagara court. The superior height of Reed, Niagara center, who scored 8 points in the last half, was largely responsible for the victory.

Buffalo 37 — St. Lawrence 34

In its second game with St. Lawrence, Buffalo turned the tables to win, 37-34. Lack of height was disastrous as Stoll, tall Buffalo center, scored 14 points to assure them of a victory.

St. Lawrence 42 — Alfred 36

The Alfred team presented a surprisingly stubborn combination and St. Lawrence was extended to win. Gilligan and Flanigan, high scoring forwards, led in individual points.

St. Lawrence 30 — Hamilton 25

Hamilton was defeated in the first of a two-game trip by a 30-25 score. Holding the opponents to 3 points, St. Lawrence worked through the opponents' defense with Gilligan and Grabowski leading the attack.

St. Lawrence 44 — Hobart 30

The next night St. Lawrence registered another victory at Hobart. With Flanigan doing most of the scoring, the Scarlet rolled up a 23-10 lead at the half and coasted through the remainder of the game to an easy victory.

Clarkson 47 — St. Lawrence 36

Clarkson won the second game over St. Lawrence in the 1932-33 season by winning 47-36 at Potsdam. Unable to stop Flowers, who scored 20 points, St. Lawrence lost out in the last quarter of a hard-fought contest. Flanigan and LeBach kept St. Lawrence close to Clarkson by scoring 13 points apiece.

By defeating the sophomore quintet in the last game of the year, the freshmen brought a successful season to a close. The Yearlings won eleven out of sixteen games, scoring 430 points against their opponents' 406.

Coached by Thomas Kunz, '32, the freshmen defeated eleven teams, among which were Johnstown, Carthage, Watertown, Potsdam Normal, and Canton. In the annual underclass games, the little Saints, with all odds against them, defeated the crack sophomore quintet, 28-24, in the last few minutes of the game.

With two defeats, three victories and one tie to its credit, the St. Lawrence wrestling team finished a successful season. In the first meet of a hard schedule, Coach Clogston's matmen met an experienced team in the Syracuse Y. M. C. A. and lost, 13-19. A much improved team met Ithaca Y. M. C. A. in the next meet and held them to a tie. The next meet brought the Larry men against Ithaca College, which they easily defeated, 19-9. In Syracuse, they met a superior team and after leading the lighter weight classes, lost, 19-13. After this defeat, the team met and defeated both Norwich and Alfred.

"Pop" Gallt completed his second undefeated season by winning five matches. His excellent record prompted the Board of Athletic Control to send him to the inter-collegiate wrestling contests at Lehigh, where he lost his first match by a fall.

Co-ed varsity basketball changed its form to Interclass and Intramural competition this year. This was a step forward, since many of the leading women's colleges of the country have adopted this form of competition. The enthusiasm for basketball, one of two major sports, was as keen as ever; about twenty-five girls took part in the varsity games this year. The only outside games were played with the alumnae. The rest of the season was spent in games between color and class teams.

Award of the letters this year was based on the record of attendance at practices and ability to pass three tests with a grade of 85. The tests were divided so as to test the individual's knowledge of basketball rules and formations, her skill, and her actual playing ability.

The Women's Freshman Varsity basketball team experienced a most successful season, winning six of its games and tying one. This year the girls were fortunate to have two overnight trips included in their schedule in addition to the usual short trips. The most outstanding game of the year was with Cambridge High School which had previously been undefeated; the freshman team won by 1 point in the last minute of play. This record of no defeat is one of the best that has been set by a freshman basketball team at St. Lawrence.

"Hockey has been made a major sport!" Following this exciting announcement in the fall of 1932, those girls picked for the first and second All-St. Lawrence Hockey Teams, as well as the members of the Frosh Varsity, took a written test on the fundamentals, tactics and rules of hockey. All those receiving an average of 75 or above will qualify for advanced hockey next fall. The seniors who received a grade of 85 received their insignia this year.

Bad weather called an early halt to the class tournament of 1932. At the end of the season the juniors were credited with two victories, the sophomores and seniors with one each, and these last two teams were playing each other for the fifth time trying to break the tie. The tournament is to be finished this spring.

Class of 1935

While the snow is still on the ground, let us take an intimate glimpse into the life of a sophomore. We see Mr. Sophomore in his fraternity—raving about the things that should be improved, finding out that they can't be done, and getting squelched for his pains. We see some of the sophomores competing for assistant managerships and finding enjoyment in running around the gym with dirty towels hanging from their nether portions. Likewise, editorial aspirants chase hither and yon for stories and ink themselves at the Hill News office. The athlete is out on the gym floor during practice, busy trying to show the coach that he's either a Londos or a Holman; but he is usually on the bench during most of the games. When music fills the gymnasium, the soph can be seen everywhere trying to impress upperclassman and freshman alike. In the dormitories, the soph has a gleeful time lording it over the freshman, until they get wise and tell him to "go home." All in all, submerged in activities and generally neglected by everyone, the soph has a busy time proving that he isn't just another nonentity.

S P R I N G

It was a pleasant journey—the waysides glowing with the blue of violets, the green of tender grass, the thick-sown starry gold of dandelions. Wild fowl crossed the sky in wedge and battalion, their videttes out, their lines now firm, now wheeling in a long curve to take the path of the wind. Every thicket was a fount of song that fell to silence when darkness came and the low chant of the marshes.—Darrell of the Blessed Isles

Track

Although only five letter men were available when Coach "Doc" Kavanagh issued his 1932 track call, a fairly strong and successful team was built around this nucleus. The only Scarlet victory was over Rochester. In the Conference Meet, St. Lawrence finished fourth out of the six teams that entered. However, since the 1932 team was composed entirely of sophomores and juniors there will be no loss of men through graduation. Adding to this the material from the strong freshman team, the prospects of a successful team in 1933 are very promising.

St. Lawrence went to Vermont for its opening meet and lost to a veteran team by the score of $85\frac{1}{2}$ to $49\frac{1}{2}$. Although the Larries appeared weak in track events, it was strong in the field events; Roberge, the tall sophomore star, scored 18 points. He won a first place in the hammer throw, shot put, and discus throw and a second place in the javelin throw. Other first places went to Co-Captain Moore in the half-mile and Campbell in the low hurdles.

In the first meet at home, Alfred had little trouble defeating the Larries. The St. Lawrence men were unable to win a first in the track events but Roberge again led his team in scoring by winning the shot put, javelin throw, and discus throw.

St. Lawrence came back strong to win from Rochester at Weeks Field in the next meet. The track men were surprisingly strong in winning five of the seven events in fast time. Brook, Warren, Benjamin, Loveys, and Rushman won firsts in the hundred, two-hundred, four-hundred, mile, and two-mile runs, respectively. Robideau placed first in the high jump and pole vault, and Roberge won two more firsts in the shot put and discus throw.

In the Conference Meet at Rochester on May 21, the Larry team finished fourth. Hamilton and Alfred fought for first place far ahead of the rest of the entries. Larry track weakness was again evident, as Co-Captain Phil Moore's fifth place was the only track contribution to the Larry score. Roberge again took two firsts, Gregory won a second in the javelin throw and Robideau was tied for third in the pole vault.

During the year, one St. Lawrence record was broken. Roberge, the high scorer for the season, set a record by throwing the discus 115 feet, 7 inches.

THE 1932 SEASON

St. Lawrence 2	Vermont 4
St. Lawrence 1	Middlebury 5
St. Lawrence 4	Ithaca 2
St. Lawrence 0	Hamilton 6

There has been a steadily increasing popularity in tennis as a spring sport at St. Lawrence. One out of four meets was won by the 1932 team built around two letter men, Edgett and Howe. The defeat of Ithaca College was the first victory for St. Lawrence in the history of the sport.

Although the first two meets were lost to Vermont and Middlebury, they were hard fought and close. In the meet with Ithaca, Edgett, Howe, and Kaplan won their singles matches and Edgett and Kaplan won their doubles match to give St. Lawrence its first victory in tennis. Captain Curtis Edgett, winner of the Sykes Tennis Trophy in the annual fall tournament, was the outstanding man in number of matches won. In the final meet, the Larries were shut out 6-0 by the superior playing of the Hamilton team.

Co-Ed Minor Sports

Canoe Regatta

CATHERINE MOTION, '33, and LORAIN HEATON, '33
Managers

The fifth annual Canoe Regatta was held June 11 on Little River. Gaily colored floats representing Noah's Ark, an Eskimo kayak, the southland darkies, and the dignified seniors started the event. The freshman canoe won the float display and the sophomores scored the most points to win the regatta.

The college Sing was held on the evening of June 12 on Little River. The women's quartet, which sang from a raft in the middle of the river, was the feature of the program.

MOTION, HEATON

Volleyball

The annual underclass game of volleyball, played in May of 1932, resulted in a victory for the sophomores. Aside from this event, the sport was rather neglected in favor of ping-pong and badminton. However, the game returned this spring with prospects of a bigger and better season.

HUGHES, PHETEPLACE

Tennis

JANET HUGHES, '33, and MIRIAM PHETEPLACE, '33
Managers

The annual Spring Tennis Tournament of 1932 was won by Betty Fenn, '35. The Freshman Varsity team had a most successful season, winning three matches from the Ogdensburg Free Academy. A singles tournament, which brought out many entries, was held this spring.

Co-Ed Minor Sports

Archery

FLORENCE BALTZ, '33, and DOROTHY ALLEN, '33
Managers

BALTZ, ALLEN

Archery, which requires much individual skill and constant practice, is one of the most popular of the co-ed minor sports. Because of the enthusiasm shown in archery last spring, St. Lawrence entered four girls in the National Tournament held by the National Archery Association of the Colleges of America. More than eighty colleges from all over the country participated in this tournament by means of telegraph. The tournament silver archery cup was awarded to Doris Owens, '34.

Badminton and Ping-Pong

VIOLET VANHOUTEN, '34, and EVELYN LYND, '34
Managers

WHITEHEAD

Badminton and ping-pong were popular sports in the early months of 1932.—the Ping-Pong Tournament, in which about thirty-five girls took part, was won by Marion Lobdell, '32, who defeated Ruth Eddy, '35. The Second Annual Badminton Tournament was won by Eleanor Taylor, '32, who defeated Betty Fenn, '35.

Baseball

MARIAN WHITEHEAD, '33, Manager

The 1932 baseball season was delayed by the inclement weather. St. Lawrence played games with Rensselaer Falls, Pyrites, and the Watertown Y. W. C. A. The team received its only defeat from the Watertown Y. W. C. A.

Class of 1934

Now that spring is here, let us take a poke into the affairs of the junior. In his fraternity house, he has been an upperclassman for almost a year, during which time he has had the paternal pleasure of having some pledge look up to him as a father. He can be a jolly fellow, knowing that he still has another year to make up any deficiency in quality points and redeem himself in the eyes of the Dean. The athletic junior gets less chance to enjoy watching the games and has to get out and "do or die" for his Alma Mater once in a while. Our activity junior has more to worry about. He is on house party committees and has to worry through them, and more important still, he has to be nice to all the office-holders and smile sweetly in an attempt to woo from them the final appointments. The junior's big moment comes on Moving-up Day, when he sees the venerable seniors take back seats and make way for him to march first and foremost out of the chapel.

Baseball

A late spring retarded Coach Sullivan's work with the 1932 team. Weather conditions allowed only one week of outdoor practice before the opening game on May 3. This, as later events showed, was the cause for the sluggish playing in the first appearance. Ensuing games revealed to Larry fans a peppy, fast-moving outfit that won seven and lost five games against strong opposition.

The offerings of Furlong, Larry, starting pitcher in the Ithaca game, puzzled the visitors but little and they amassed five runs before Meichelbeck halted the scoring in the fifth inning. The next game found an improved team playing good ball behind Vorgets to win, 5-1, from St. Michael's.

A scheduled three-game trip was nearly washed out when rain interfered at Ithaca and Syracuse. The Hamilton game was played and resulted in a 4-2 victory for the Larries. St. Lawrence won its next game from St. Bonaventure and then lost the following one to Colgate. The Larries got back on the winning path by battering Norwich pitchers for thirteen runs, while Furlong held the opposing batsmen helpless.

A three-game series with Clarkson was opened at Potsdam with a 6-5 Larry victory. The worst setback of the year was handed St. Lawrence when Clarkson came here determined to even the series and proceeded to defeat us, 8-0. The third and deciding game was played on Weeks Field on Commencement Day, before the largest crowd of the year. The final score was 5-0, in favor of St. Lawrence.

This year, three post-commencement games were played away. St. Michael's again succumbed to the Larry attack. Vermont again defeated St. Lawrence by a 6-0 score. The season ended with a defeat by Union.

The Year In Sports

In reviewing the year of sports, it cannot be said that a successful season was experienced, for no loyal Laurentian can call a sports year a success unless Clarkson has been defeated in football and at least once in both basketball and baseball. The defeat in football by Clarkson was the first in seven years and after it a new era in sports was begun at St. Lawrence.

The renaissance in sports was initiated with spring football. At a smoker held in the Men's Dormitory, a call was made for every man at St. Lawrence to participate in at least one sport. About seventy-five percent of the eligible men in school reported for training in either baseball, football, or track. This is the largest number of men that has ever taken part in athletics at the same time. With this start, next year promises to be a bright one in the realm of sports.

Last fall a strong defensive, but weak offensive, football team lost to Clarkson but showed its ability when it defeated Niagara. Few of this team were lost through graduation and next year's team should be a strong contender for the conference title.

A fast-moving, sure-shooting basketball team made an admirable record in winning ten out of fifteen games. The victory over McGill was the outstanding win of the year.

The 1932 Larry baseball team won seven out of twelve games, winning two out of the three games with Clarkson. The wrestling team won three matches, lost two, and tied one. The tennis team won one out of four matches.

THE YEAR IN SPORTS

The women of St. Lawrence have been successful in getting seventy-five percent of their number to participate in some sport during the past year. The addition of Miss Mildred Carter, a graduate of Ithaca College of Physical Education, as part-time assistant, and Miss Janet Hughes, '33, as student assistant in the athletic department, has greatly facilitated the work this year and made the greater participation possible.

The interest in hockey was so manifest that the game was made a major sport with a major award of sweater and insignia. This was an important step in carrying out the new sports program of W. A. A. to meet the problem presented by the elimination of all inter-collegiate competition.

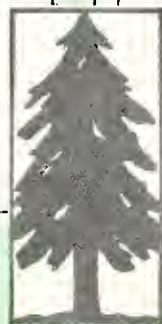

In February, seventy girls participated in a Winter Carnival sponsored by W. A. A. The program included a "walkathon" for the first day, followed by games on Grasse River and refreshments. A trip to Lake Placid constituted the program for the second day. Ice-skating, tobogganning, skiing, and even flying, made the experience a delightful one.

Spring plans include a Play Day for the senior girls of high schools of northern and central New York. The girls will be entertained overnight and will take part in a sports program on May 13, ending their visit with a picnic "up river."

ADVERTISEMENTS

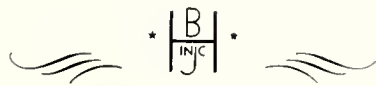

The Scenic Artist Takes No Curtain Calls

Back of the "big drop" in every theater is the man who provides the proper stage settings. His work and that of his staff is essential to the success of every play.

The task of your annual designer may be likened to that of the scenic artist. He furnishes the background on which are portrayed the achievements of the Class of 1933. He accentuates the literary brilliance of the GRIDIRON Staff through appropriate art, harmonious design, and tasteful typography. His work perpetuates the spirit of the Class of 1933.

Baker, Jones, Hausauer count it a privilege to have acted as "Scenic Artists" for the 1933 GRIDIRON. We crave no curtain calls. If we have furnished a background of unusual distinction for the outstanding performance of the Staff, we are well content.
